Bill Neale SAYS What about mileage on a Used Car? Do you believe in speedometer readings? I don't. But I do believe in condition. Condition is the main determining factor in the value of a used car. That is why I do not turn speedometers back on any of my cars. Mileage will not hurt a car if it has been properly cared for. Some people can do more damage to a car in 5000 miles than others in 50,000 miles, so why lie about mileage. Come in and see these clean, actual mileage cars.
